BURNED FOR A WITCH

A Young Indian Mother Who Gave Birth to Twins.

CASE OF SAVAGE SUPERSTITION.

A Squaw and Twin Babies Mercilessly Slaughtered—She Was Burned to Death and Her Children Were Killed With a Club—A Horrible Story of Cruelty by the Mojave Indians.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 27.—A horrible story of the wild law and superstition of the Mojave Indians is told by J. F. Saunders, who has just arrived from The Needles, a town on the Colorado river, on the Atlantic and Pacific railway. He had heard the details just before he took the train, and they seem to be corroborated by an account given in a local paper, The Eye, which he brought with him. The Mojave Indian reservation is about half a mile from The Needles, and the aborigines are virtually their own masters, having their own laws and superstitions.

From Saunders' account, on Tuesday last, a triple murder was committed under the plea of a tradition by the Indians. One of the prettiest squaws of the tribe, known as Loneta, was married according to the savage rites about a year ago. She was a comely girl, only 18 years old, and had picked up some education. Her husband was one of the braves and appeared to be very fond of her. Sunday last she gave birth to twins, and as a result a grand pow-wow was called, for according to the Mojave tradition the squaw who has twins is a witch and a consort of evil spirits. The penalty has always been death for the babies and the mother. Loneta's husband was so fond of her, however, that he made a strong plea for her and her babies, but it was of no avail.

The medicine men held that the old custom must be observed, and the two little ones were brought forward and brained with a club. Loneta was kept for a more trying ordeal, which she suffered without complaint. Every one of her personal belongings was gathered and put into her "shack," and she was ordered inside. She bade her husband farewell and went in. The entrance was closed, straw and brush were piled about the frail structure and fired, and in two hours nothing but a few embers remained to tell the tragic story.

Officers at The Needles learned the facts too late to interfere, and the poor squaw, with this horrid torture, passed to the happy hunting ground where her ill-starred offspring had preceded her.

DYNAMITE UNDER A CHURCH.

The Question of Nationality Cuts a Strong Figure at a Wedding.

HAZLETON, Pa., Dec. 27.—National rivalry led to a dynamite outrage and a fight at Derringer Christmas. A couple of one nationality had been married and their friends were celebrating the event. Some of the wedding guests were not of the same nationality as Thomas Baba, the bridegroom, and his bride and ill-feeling sprang up. The members of the minority nationality withdrew and gathered a mob of their friends. Under one corner of the house in which the festivities were in progress they placed a large quantity of dynamite.

One of their number weakened at the last moment and informed the guests. The guests came rushing from the house just as the fuse had been lighted. Several tried to tear out the fuses and others carried away part of the dynamite. Before they could accomplish much, however, they were compelled to flee by the progress of the fire on some of the fuses. The house was badly wrecked by the explosion and the whole town was thrown into excitement.

After the smoke cleared away the wedding guests attacked the authors of the outrage, and a hard fight took place. Many shots were fired on each side, and knives, clubs and stones were freely used. The arrival of the constable stopped the fight, and each side carried off its disabled. The women all fled screaming to the mountains back of the town when the fight began. Four of the participants were badly injured. At least a score of others are more or less injured. All concerned are miners.

GIVEN ONE SQUARE MEAL.

Good Work of the Salvation Army Among the Poor of San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—The Salvation Army here attempted to carry Christmas cheer into San Francisco's darkest homes and gladden the hearts of thousands in the city who have no homes or shelter. In the former dive on Grant avenue, recently transformed into the Salvationist, tables were arranged to seat 450 people. In this place over 3,500 hungry men and women were given a Christmas dinner. Besides this over 1,000 baskets, which, containing tea, coffee, sugar, rice, sago, beans, milk, candies, fruit, soap, mustard, macaroni, butter, roast of mutton, or beef and nuts and candies to the value of about $250 were sent out to suffering families. For this work the Salvationists had collected a fund of about $8,000. The night was unusually cold. At the city prison over 300 wanderers were sheltered and dozens were refused lodging after all the cells and corridors were filled.

Double Tragedy. DAINGERFIELD, Tex., Dec. 27.—Lee Willis shot and killed Miss Minnie Moore and then committed suicide by shooting himself. They were cousins and engaged to marry, but their parents objected. They had a misunderstanding while out riding. On returning he put his arm around her and fired, then shot himself twice. They were prominent and well connected.

COMPELLED TO USE FORCE.

Band of Tramps Broken Up After a Small Sized Battle.

HARTFORD CITY, Ind., Dec. 27.—A band of tramps, armed with revolvers, had been having things all their own way among the citizens of the south side until yesterday afternoon, when six of the band were captured, after an exchange of several volleys, during which one of the citizens was shot through the leg and a tramp shot in the arm. At the point of revolvers the gang held up a man in that locality about noon yesterday in one of the saloons.

They entered these places, called for drinks, laid their revolvers by them and intimidated bystanders. They met the command of the bartenders by leveling their guns on them. They excited great suspicion by exhibiting a well filled money sack, which was variously estimated to contain from $500 to $1,000. The money was in silver, gold and paper currency. The leader of the gang escaped, and it is supposed that he carried the money with him.

MERRIAM-YEARGIN MYSTERY.

It Has Been Solved by the Finding of the Young Lady's Dead Body.

ROCHESTER, Dec. 27.—A special to The Morning Herald from Ithaca, N. Y., says: The body of Miss Mary L. Yeargin, a student, who was drowned on Nov. 18, while boating on Cayuga lake with Professor Merriam of Cornell University, was found yesterday at McKinney Point. The body was badly decomposed and the face unrecognizable, but by marks on the clothing it is certain that it is the body of Miss Yeargin.

It is the general impression that old man Bishop, who went to the sheriff's several days ago to see if the reward would not be increased for the recovery of the body, knows more than he cares to tell as to where it has been for so long a time.

Two Men Shot.

NEVADA, Mo., Dec. 27.—News has just reached here of the fatal shooting of two men at Rockville, a small hamlet 25 miles north of here. A young man named Macklin persisted in wearing an officer's star, claiming he had a right to do so. He was arrested by City Marshal Pryor, who placed him in charge of his son, who is a deputy. Macklin wrenched young Pryor's cane from him and started to run, whereupon Pryor shot him in the back, inflicting what is thought to be a mortal wound. Macklin is about 20 years of age. His friend, S. P. Medkiff, interfered and young Pryor shot him also, the ball entering the jaw.

Dangerous Counterfeits.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Dec. 36.—Harrison county has been flooded for the past three months with dangerous counterfeit silver dollars, halves and nickels. Yesterday the leader of the gang was brought before Federal Commissioner Pollock, at this place. Witnesses swore that he manufactured the spurious coin out of old silver teapots and watch cases, and his organized gang passed the stuff. He failed to give bond in the sum of $5,000. The officials expect more arrests to follow. A full outfit of dies and counterfeiters' tools was captured.

Last of the Garza Army.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Dec. 27.—Captain Joseph Shely, deputy United States marshal in the lower Rio Grande border, has just arrived here from Starr county with three more prisoners, who are alleged to have been prominently connected with the Garza revolutionary movement. They are said to be the last of the Garza army. The total number arrested is 350, nearly all of this number having been tried and convicted in the federal court here and at Brownsville, and are now serving out jail and penitentiary sentences.

Free Fight Among Italians.

HAZLETON, Pa., Dec. 27.—In a free fight at Ebervale last night, in which 40 or 50 men took part, four of them were seriously injured. They are: Mike Lambert, probably fatally shot; James Lambert, stiletto wound in the neck, condition critical; Mike Fennell, shot in the head; Tony Lobert, stiletto wound in the neck, will die. The participants were nearly all Italians, and the battle raged for more than an hour. Guns, knives, clubs and weapons of every kind were used. A posse is after the unhurt participants.

Saved From a Wreck.

DENVER, Dec. 27.—As the Union Pacific suburban train was slowing up at the Val Verde crossing the engineer noticed the switch was set wrong and, reversing his engine, brought the train to a stop just as it reached the switch. The switch had been unlocked and opened and a crowbar and a piece of rail three feet long inserted in the frog. All the passengers were laboring men who carried no money, nor was there valuables in the train.

Suicide in a Depot.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Dec. 27.—Yesterday forenoon a well dressed stranger walked into the Burlington depot, and after searching his pockets and destroying a number of papers, was seen to go to the water cooler and swallow the contents of a small bottle. He then sat down on one of the benches and a few moments later the watchman found that he was dead. There was nothing left on his person except a sum of money and his identity is a mystery.

To Quell a Riot.

TAMPA, Fla., Dec. 27.—Acting under instructions from Governor Mitchell the Tampa rifles, 42 strong, left on the 8 o'clock train last night for Wildwood to aid in quelling the negro riot. The governor ordered a special train from Ocala to that place to convey the rifles of that city to the scene of the riot. The latest news from Wildwood is to the effect that 15 negroes are wounded, four killed and four captured.

SUFFERING SAILORS.

Six Men Rescued From a Wrecked Schooner.

FOUR DAYS ON THE ROCKS.

With Scanty Clothing and Scantier Food, Drenched by the Spray From the Waves Which Were Rapidly Beating the Vessel to Pieces, These Men Endured Their Suffering.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Four days on the rocks, with scanty clothing and scantier food, drenched by the spray from the waves, which were rapidly beating their schooner to pieces a couple of lengths away—such is the story of shipwreck and privation told by the six men who formed the crew of the schooner Milford, which sailed from Mobile to Kingston, Jamaica, on Nov. 16.

The steamship Neptune has just arrived with five of the crew. The men are: Laurits Larsen, John Svenson, Axel Dahl, John Ceasser and the steward, an American, whose name was unknown to the rest of the survivors. Captain Weid remained behind at Green island to look after what is left of the wreck and cargo.

The Milford was a three-masted schooner of 300 tons. She arrived off Salt Creek on Dec. 3. She was then about eight miles from Green island, the nearest harbor. That night the vessel encountered a heavy squall, which became a gale, and in half an hour the Milford was pounding on the edge of a reef.

The crew lowered the only boat they had, but were forced to return to the schooner, as they could not reach the shore through the heavy surf. As they hoisted the boat to the davits a heavy sea smashed it to splinters and the men were dashed about the deck. Svenson was severely injured on the right shoulder. Shortly afterward the vessel sprang a leak and it soon became evident that she would go to pieces.

With the appearance of daylight the crew had a chance to see what were the best means of saving themselves. Larsen decided to try and swim to the rocks near by. The water was infested with sharks, but he plunged into the waves and reached the rocks in safety. He made fast the end of a line, and then the work of getting the other men ashore began.

They all made the dangerous passage in safety. They brought some food and water ashore, but only just enough to keep them from dying of starvation.

The crew remained on the rocks until the following Thursday. They were without any kind of shelter. The storm had abated by Thursday afternoon and the natives came out in a canoe and took them to shore.

Demand Only Eight Hours.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., Dec. 27.—About 200 union miners assembled yesterday at the shafthouse of the Burne mine, belonging to the Calumet company, which started up several days ago, working nine hour shafts, and told the men that they would not be allowed to work more than eight hours a day. The shafthouse was locked up and the officers of the company at Colorado Springs notified. No arrests were made. If an attempt is made to reopen the mine on a nine hour basis there will be trouble.

Pittsburg Driving Park Burned.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 27.—The Pittsburg driving park at Homewood is no more. A few days ago the property was sold under an order of court, and it was the intention of the purchasers to cut it up into building lots. Early yesterday morning flames completed the work by totally destroying the clubhouse and the grand stands. The loss will be about $15,000. The fire is supposed to be of incendiary origin.

All in the Race.

MASON CITY, Ia., Dec. 27.—Hon. L. S. Coffin of Fort Dodge is announced candidate for the United States senate to succeed James F. Wilson. The following are now actively in the race: John H. Gear, A. B. Cummins, W. P. Hepburn, John Y. Stone, George D. Perkins, John F. Lacey and L. S. Coffin. It is the most sensational contest in Iowa since the memorial Kirkwood-Harlan fight.

Can Live a Few Days Longer.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Dec. 27.—Wilson Howard's short lease on life was yesterday lengthened, Governor Stone granting a stay of the execution of the death sentence till Jan. 19. Howard is under conviction for the murder of a deaf mute peddler, Thomas McMichael, in Laclede county, Mo., and also has a record of a dozen or more killings in the Turner-Howard feud in Kentucky.

Shot by His Brother.

ELIZABETH, Colo., Dec. 27.—Henry Sadewasser was shot through the lungs yesterday by his brother Ferdinand and died instantly. The brothers owned a ranch near Kiowa, quarreled, and in the fight which resulted Ferd says a shotgun which Henry held accidentally went off. Ferd was arrested.

Death of a Kentucky Millionaire.

BARDSTOWN, Ky., Dec. 27.—C. S. Barber, Sr., one of Kentucky's millionaires, died here last night, aged 76. Mr. Barber was one of the richest men in this part of the state, his fortune being estimated between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000. His wife, who is 75 years of age, and two children, survive him.

Poor Pay for Outlaws.

COFFEYVILLE, Kan., Dec. 27.—The outlaws who held up the Missouri Pacific train south of here Sunday night secured no money from the express company. The only thing the express messenger had in the safe was a package of plated jewelry valued at $2.

WANTS HER LIBERTY.

Mrs. Schmidt Finds Her Imprisonment Very Irksome.

KOKOMO, Ind., Dec. 27.—Mrs. Augusta Schmidt, who is under indictment for murder in the first degree for the killing of Oscar Walton, her tenant, last October, and who has since lain in jail here, is making a desperate effort to be admitted to bail. To that end she has, through ten prominent attorneys, begun habeas corpus proceedings, and the trial is now in progress before Judge Kirkpatrick. The same evidence that will follow in the regular trial was introduced in this proceeding and was of a startling and sensational nature.

Oct. 20 last Mrs. Schmidt, who is a German lady 45 years old, and who recently came into possession of an estate valued at $60,000, quarreled with her tenant, Oscar Walton, and shot him dead. Walton was a prominent young man, son of Samuel Walton, the founder of the town of Walton, a few miles north of this city. It developed in the trial here that Walton, soon after taking charge of her farm last spring, tried to induce Mrs. Schmidt to procure a divorce from her husband and marry him, and that he had also made indecent proposals to her. Shortly thereafter Mrs. Schmidt bought a revolver and threatened to shoot him. They had frequent quarrels, in which numerous threats were exchanged, and finally resulted in a tragedy.

The witnesses to the shooting were the aged and infirm parents of young Walton, and Mrs. Schmidt's son, 10 years of age. The Waltons occupied one part of the farmhouse, the Schmidts the other. The shooting was in the doorway leading from one's apartment to the other's, Walton's body falling across the threshold.

The old mother of the victim testified that Mrs. Schmidt, after a quarrel over geese getting into a cornfield, had a fight with her son, and that she then went to her bureau, procured a revolver, returned, burst in the partition door the young man was trying to barricade, and deliberately murdered him.

Mrs. Schmidt, who pleads self-defense, says she was herself trying to barricade the door, and that Walton forced it open and made a murderous assault on her, and she was compelled to shoot him in self-defense. Her boy corroborated her story.

The prominence of the parties makes the case of intense interest. The murderess is an adopted daughter of a German baroness, by whose death, four years ago, Mrs. Schmidt came in possession of a large fortune, after long litigation. The remainder of her inheritance will now go for attorney fees and court expenses. The trial will continue until the last of the week.

GAMBLING HOUSE RAIDED.

Two Men Seize Over $2,000 in a Desperate Way.

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—Two men entered the gambling house at 20 Quincy street yesterday morning, secured $2,200 in cash and with revolvers still leveled at a badly frightened group of three faro dealers, backed out of the door and made their escape. Dan Creston, the doorkeeper, opened the heavy door to admit two ordinary appearing men. When he admitted them they had their hands in their overcoat pockets.

When they crossed the threshold of the door each had a murderous looking gun leveled at Creston's head. No players were in the room, but the doorkeeper and two dealers were compelled to stand in line and covered by two revolvers, while a third man, who had followed them in, gathered up all the money in sight, $2,200, and then all made their escape. There is no clue to their identity.

THE COLUMBIAN STAMP.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—The postal authorities of more than one foreign country will hail with satisfaction the close of the present year and the withdrawal from sale of the oblong Columbian postage stamps. More American letters have gone astray during the past few months in England and France than ever before, and this is attributable to the fact that a veritable craze for possessing one of the monstrosities exists in both countries, so much so that many banks and large business houses have asked their American correspondents to use nothing but the old style of stamps.

Minister Hanged in Effigy.

CHICAGO, Dec. 27.—Residents of the aristocratic suburb of Morgan Park are greatly excited over the burning in effigy, in front of suburban postoffice, of Rev. O. E. Murray, pastor of a South End Baptist church. Rev. Mr. Murray had made a vigorous attack recently on alleged gambling in the swell Morgan Park club and the demonstration against him is supposed to have resulted from this attack. Members of the club, however, denounce the action and disclaim all connection with the affair.

Advice to France.

PARIS, Dec. 27.—A pamphlet written by Colonel de Polignac, is published and proposes to show that France should ally herself with the Mussulmans in Africa. The colonel declares that France would thus compel them to live in peace with the Spaniards, and that this alliance would make France mistress of the western Mediterranean, and would enable Spain to place sufficient artillery at Algiers to render Gibraltar untenable.

Got Only Twelve Dollars.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 27.—Detective Hume, who is in the employ of Wells, Fargo & Company and is on the trail of the Roscoe train robbers, says that only $12 was secured. There was a large amount of money in the safe, but the men in their haste to get away failed to get it. He is confident he will effect the capture of the robbers.

A CRIMINAL ASYLUM

Such Is the Indian Territory at Present.

RADICAL CHANGE ASKED FOR.

Governor Fishback of Arkansas Writes a Letter to President Cleveland on the Subject and Appeals to the Federal Government For Protection—An Extract of the Letter.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 27.—A special to the Republic from Little Rock, Ark., says: Governor Fishback has written a letter to President Cleveland, complaining of the fact that the Indian Territory is an asylum for dangerous criminals of all kinds. The letter is in part as follows:

EXECUTIVE OFFICE,
LITTLE ROCK, ARK.

To the President:

The developments incident to the recent train robbery and murder at Olyphant, in this state, renders it proper, it seems to me, to call your attention to the dangerous relation which the Indian Territory west of us occupies to the states of the Union, and especially to the adjacent states of Arkansas, Kansas, Texas and Oklahoma Territory.

Upon the person of one of the captured robbers was found a map of the route they had taken from the Indian Territory, 175 miles, to the scene of the robbery, and also a map of the country around Chattanooga, Tenn., showing that another robbery was contemplated at or near that city.

I have good reason to suspect that a very large percentage of the bank and train robberies which take place west of the Alleghenies and east of the Rocky Mountains are organized or originate in this Indian Territory. Let me add that the refuge which this sparsely settled rendezvous of outlaws affords to criminals is a constant temptation to crime in all the country around.

During the past 12 months there have issued from the states of Arkansas, Texas, Kansas and Oklahoma Territory 61 requisitions upon the Indian Territory authorities for fugitives, while we have reason to believe that as many more are hiding among their comrades in crime in this asylum of criminals. Criminals who find a refuge in this territory are rapidly converting the Indian Territory into a school of crime. The federal jail at Fort Smith is at all seasons nearly full of prisoners from this territory and the federal court holds sessions continuing through nearly every month in the year.

This state of semi-chaos and the forces of government which exist in this territory suggests the very serious question whether the time has not arrived for the federal government to assert its right of eminent domain over this part of the national domain, and to change its political relations with the United States. Not only the public good but public safety as well as the highest interest of the Indian himself demands the suggested change. Respectfully,
W. M. FISHBACK,
Governor of Arkansas.

VILLAGE WIPED OUT.

The Town of Taylorsville Entirely Destroyed by Fire.

SARDINIA, O., Dec. 27.—Fire broke out in Alf Roberts' flouring mill, at Taylorsville, and before it was extinguished burned everything in town, with the exception of a schoolhouse and one dwelling. There were 13 houses destroyed, besides barns, shops and stores.

John Q. Phillips, general merchant, loses $1,000, another store $1,200 and Gordon's hotel $2,000. The total loss may reach $30,000. There was but little insurance.

There was a shooting match near the mill and it is probable that some one threw a cigar stub down in the mill and the fire started from this. The high wind made it impossible for the citizens to effectually fight the blaze.

The country people in the surrounding territory are caring for the homeless villagers until they can rebuild. The town will be rebuilt near the station.

Defense in the Wagner Trial.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 27.—Henry Spann delivered the closing argument for the defense in the Wagner murder trial. In his analysis of the testimony, he made a strong and clear expose of the weakness of the state's case, and showed that it had been built on supposition and gossip and that the expert testimony introduced by the prosecution was intangible and not supported by scientific formulas. In the event of her acquittal, Miss Wagner has announced the intention of returning to her mother's home in East Prussia.

Crank in New York.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—A man giving his name as Timothy Kane, aged 35 years, of 1776 Third avenue, called at the East One Hundred and Fourth street police station. He announced that he was going to kill the Rev. Dr. Charles Parkhurst and he wished two policemen to accompany him and arrest him after the deed. After a hard struggle Kane was overpowered and locked up. An examination as to his sanity will be made.

Rare Surgical Operation.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Dec. 27.—Flora, the 3-year-old daughter of Martin McCoy of Washington, C. H., who is here at the hospital, is starving to death. She can not swallow, owing to having drunk lye. The physicians will endeavor to save her life by putting a silver tube in the oesophagus.

Concussion of the Brain.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., Dec. 27.—William Granger, a 9-year-old lad, had his head playfully butted against the brick wall of a church, Sunday, by a number of classmates at Sunday school. The concussion burst a blood vessel, and the boy has lain unconscious ever since.

Collector Shelby's Appointments.
 Since Major Shelby entered upon his duties as Collector of this district, he has appointed 108 persons to service under him, but owing to the financial depression only a few distilleries are running, and about sixty-eight of the appointees are idle. The Collector had only 119 places to fill, and it will thus be seen that he has made a pretty clean sweep. The Transcript gives a list of appointees to date, and the names of nine Mason Countians appear among the lucky applicants. They are Robert L. Baldwin, Deputy Collector, H. D. Watson, Division Deputy, T. J. Pickett, General Storekeeper and Gauger, H. P. Chenoweth, W. C. Johnson, E. P. Forman and Hal Wood, Storekeepers, Harry Taylor, Gauger, and C. A. Wood, Storekeeper-Gauger.

Hearts Made Happy.
 While many others have been engaged of late relieving the needy, Rosenau Bros., of the Bee Hive, have been doing work in that line themselves. A few days ago, a little girl, poorly clad, entered the store and asked for alms. The firm had some cloaks left over from last year's stock which they concluded they would rather give to the poor than to sell for the price the goods would bring, so the child was fitted out with one of them, and comfortably clad went on her way rejoicing. On reaching home she soon spread the news in her neighborhood, and the firm has had a regular rush in the charity line. They have given away about thirty cloaks so far.

To-night.
 "The Fire Patrol," a new melodrama by James W. Harkins, Jr., author of "The Midnight Alarm," is among the few successful productions of the present season. Its first presentation took place in New York City at the beginning of the season and its success was immediate and pronounced, the press generally having been especially liberal in praise of the play, company and its scenic effects. Particular stress is laid upon a scene showing the ore crushers of the Homestake S. amp Mills, at Deadwood, South Dakota, in full operation, crushing the ore previous to its being smelted. At Washington Opera House this evening.

The Kickers Keep Kicking
 Collector Shelby, of this district, is making a new bond, says a special from Washington City. It appears that some of the gentlemen who are now on Maj. Shelby's bond are dissatisfied with the way in which he has distributed the loaves and fishes. They haven't received as many appointments as they think they are entitled to and, as a consequence, they are grumbling. In order to be relieved of this embarrassment Maj. Shelby has decided to make out a new bond and release the gentlemen who are kicking about the patronage.

Michael McGlone's Death.
 Bourbon News: "Mike McGlone, a brakeman on the Kentucky Central, was killed in a horrible manner at Winchester Sunday, at the Main Street crossing of the K. C. tracks. He was riding on the back of an engine, when it struck a loose door of a box-car on a side track, the door falling off and knocking McGlone under the engine, which passed over him, and crushed him to death. He was a popular young man, and was to have been promoted to the position of freight conductor Monday."

So Say We All.
 The Flemingsburg Democrat says that the sale of eggs and poultry in Fleming this year has put fifty thousand dollars into circulation in that county, and adds who can blame us Democrats for putting the rooster up as our typical bird? He is far more useful than the eagle, which aims to make his living by robbery. Hurrah for the rooster! May his tribe increase.

COUNTY CULLINGS.

Items Picked Up by the Bulletin's Correspondents in Mason and Elsewhere.

TILTON, FLEMING COUNTY.

On Saturday night there was a Christmas tree entertainment at the Methodist Church. The children of the Christian Sunday school were invited, free of charge, to join those of the Methodist Church in a very enjoyable entertainment. The house was jammed with a dense crowd of people.
 The colored school gave an exhibition at Scott's Hall Friday night. On the whole it was a very creditable affair. There was one drawback, however. In an attempt to produce the calcium light some sort of spurious powder was ignited, which came near suffocating the auditors before they could all get out of the room.
 According to previous announcement the nuptials of Mr. Tom Lee and Miss Sue McCann were celebrated at the Christian Church December 19th. Elder Thomas Howe gracefully performed the ceremony which made the twain one. Mr. and Mrs. Lee departed at once to take in the Queen City, returning Friday to the old home-land, where a cordial reception and excellent dinner, prepared by Mr. and Mrs. James McCann, awaited their arrival.

A young man from the Bible College at Lexington filled the appointment of Elder McClellan on Sunday.

Brady Jolly, of the Agricultural College, and Jos. Conly, of the L. and N. railroad at Covington, are spending Christmas with their parents.
 Christmas has passed off quite orderly, but the way the people spent their money "for that which perisheth" doesn't look like hard times.

Miss Mattie Cooper, of Nepton, and Miss Mattie Bell and brothers, Thomas and James, of Fleming County, are spending Christmas with the family of A. Williams.

 Mrs. L. H. Mannen is expected home Thursday, as her son Isaac, (not like the prophet her only son Isaac), has so far recovered as to be able to be removed to his aunt Lizzie Turney's, near Paris.

Prof. Henry Lloyd and Miss Alice Lloyd, of Lexington, are at home, also Miss Lillie, a student of Hamilton College. Miss Mary Walton, of the same school, and Miss Ida Erion, of the commercial college, are at home.

 Frank Coulter is on the sick list.
 Mr. and Mrs. James Breeze are both quite sick.
 Forest Lee was visiting friends at Mt. Gilead Sunday.

Several cases of dyspepsia have developed in town since hog killing.

Prof. Thatcher failed in getting a writing class at Gilead Wednesday evening.

J. D. Bramel will leave Kentucky for Indiana January 1, if he does not get sick again.

Miss Anna Mattingly, of Rectortown, has been visiting the family of Marshall Davenport.

Mrs. Alex. Taylor was summoned to Maysville Tuesday to see her sister, Mrs. Pollitt, who is quite sick.

Our jovial friend, Jacob Thomas, of Maysville, was perambulating our streets Sunday evening in company with his best girl.

Aquilla Boots, who has been on the sick list for some weeks, has gradually grown worse until his condition is now critical.

Marion Tolle, Jr., and wife and the Misses Tolle, of Orangeburg, spent Saturday and Sunday with the family of B. H. Farrow.

We did not have a genuine old-fashioned drunk in Gilead during Christmas, or the festivities preceding, and consider it quite a compliment to our village.

Misses Nettie and Minnie Stone, Lucian Goodman and Harry Dobyns delighted a company of friends with guitar and violin music at Prof. Bradley's Tuesday evening.

The expression "hard times" is made of India rubber, and can be stretched to suit a man's politics. It is always "hard times" on a Republican when the Democrats have possession of the public crib.

Tobacco stripping is progressing very slowly, owing to a failure of owners to put it in bulk before it went out of case. There seems to be no life in the country market from some cause, although quotations from the city are encouraging.

Charles Thomas, George Jordan, Mary France and C. C. Storie carried off the palm Saturday evening in the way of well delivered pieces at our Christmas tree entertainment. Little fellows, if you want to be praised you must try to excel.

Miss Jennie Fitch, teacher at Turner school house, gave quite a creditable entertainment at her school room last Saturday, between the hours of 1 and 4 p. m. A Christmas tree was nicely decorated with presents, the delivery of which was sandwiched with appropriate dialogues and declamations. The whole affair spoke well for Miss Fitch's artistic skill and good management.

J. R. Davis' house was entirely consumed by fire Tuesday night, December 19th. The fire evidently started from the kitchen, since the kitchen and dining room were ready to fall in when the family awoke. The loss is not less than $1,000 direct, while indirectly it will be much greater. Insured in Mason County Farmers' Insurance Company for $700. The family have the sympathy of the entire community in their loss.

IN MEMORIAM.

In the death of Mrs. Eleanor Wisenall, which event occurred at her late residence in Aberdeen, December 12, 1893, one of the excellent of the earth passed away. She suffered long and patiently, awaiting her release with expressions of faith and rejoicing.
 She was a woman of many graces of mind and heart. A reader of more than ordinary intelligence; so quiet and retiring; so modest of her attainments, that her mental superiority was scarcely understood by the general community.
 Mrs. Wisenall was born in the city of Philadelphia, July 17, 1813. She was the daughter of the late John and Margaret Rudy, and was brought by her parents to Maysville in the year 1814. She was a member of the Methodist Church twenty-seven years.
 Her funeral services were conducted by Rev. D. F. Holt, a large concourse of friends and neighbors assembling to pay this last tribute of respect. Three children survive her—Mr. John B. Wisenall, of Covington, Ky., and the Misses Josephine and Mary C. Wisenall, of Aberdeen, O.

A BIG COCKFIGHT.

About Two Hundred Sports Spend the Night in an Ohio Barn Opposite Fair Grounds.

Another big cocking main occurred last night.

This time the boys sought Ohio soil, and spent the night in a barn on the Roth farm opposite the fair grounds, watching the brutal sport.

About two hundred were present, Paris, Lexington, Georgetown, Louisville, Covington, Newport, Maysville and other cities being represented, according to the information at hand.

The steamer M. P. Wells was chartered for the occasion, and she had to make two trips to convey the crowd from this city to the scene of the fight. She left about 9 o'clock on her last trip, and it was about 4 o'clock this morning before the party returned.

The BULLETIN's information is that the main occurred in Joe Roth's barn. Further information could not be obtained, except that several Maysville birds were among the winners.

An effort was made some days ago to charter the ferryboat Laurance to convey the crowd to the scene of last night's fight, but Captain Phister promptly informed the party who approached him that his steamer could not be chartered for an such purposes.

The Sherley is now in the Pomeroy trade, but an exchange says she will be placed in the Cincinnati and Charleston trade against the Stanley as soon as the White Collar Line's new sidewheeler is completed.

At the K. of P. entertainment to-night at Neptune Hall, music will be furnished by Stewart's Cornet Orchestra, and Austin's Mandolin Orchestra. Last night, don't miss it.

The Christmas tree prepared for the children of St. Joseph's parochial school, under the management of the Sisters of the Visitation, was "a thing of beauty" and will be "a joy forever" to the little ones. The Directress of the school offers heartfelt thanks to the generous friends who aided her so liberally in the pleasant enterprise.

COVINGTON COMMONWEALTH: "The Afternoon Ladies' Club were entertained by Miss Ford on Friday afternoon. The gay party of ladies enjoyed the pleasure because it was holiday time, and brings to us so many "imported" charming ladies to add to the social beauty of the festive season. Among the number of Miss Ford's guests, was Miss Wall, of Maysville. She is so bright and clever that she gains new admirers every day. She wore a gray silk gown with lace garniture. Miss Marshall's face looked unusually pretty beneath a crimson hat and she certainly has a winning manner and sweet voice in speaking. Surely, she must sing sweetly. Miss Robinson was genial, happy and joyous, and wore a becoming gown and seemed to enjoy the game."

The Knights of St. John's Juvenile Drum Corps gave a pleasant Christmas entertainment at their hall last evening. The game of lotto was played, everyone drawing a prize. After the game was over, the little folks "skipped the tra-la-loo" and "chased the goose" until 10 o'clock to the strains of music furnished by Professor Clifford's orchestra. Those present were: Misses Katie Mae O'Mara, Mae Fitzgerald, Philomena Lingens, Carrie Frey, Agnes Haffey, Nora King, Kittie Thomas, Mary E. Brown, Annie Honan, Katie Honan, Jennie Wallace, Katie Gleason, Nellie Mitchell and Nettie Smith; Masters: Tom King, John Cook, Frank Devine, Stanton Glenn, Willie Cook, Harry Daley, King Willett, Henry Gollenstein, Benny Deiner, Christian Devine, Stanley Willett, Joe Collins, John Honan, Rodger Devine, Joe Deiner and George Frey.

SAMUEL POE, aged eighty years, one of Bracken County's highly respected citizens, died a few days ago.

A STATEMENT of the condition of the First National Bank appears in this issue. It makes an excellent showing as usual.

CHARLIE RICHMOND and Miss Amanda Lane, of this city, were married Monday at the home of the bride's father, James Lane.

THE Washington correspondent of the Courier-Journal says Captain Sam. Gaines has been very ill with the grip for two weeks.

THE wife of Rev. W. H. Childers, of Augusta, tripped on a plank last Sunday and fell, breaking one of her arms near the elbow.

MR. AND MRS. T. A. FERRIS, of Waxahatchie, Texas, sent Mr. M. W. Coulter a handsome Christmas gift in the shape of a fine gold watch.

A FREIGHT car jumped the track at the foot of the steps leading to Forest avenue last night and came very near going over the steep embankment.

THE comedy, "Is Marriage a Failure?" attracted a large audience to the opera house Monday night. The company is a good one, and gives an enjoyable entertainment.

GEORGE SALT, the "bucket shop" operator, will be tried at Augusta to-day for gambling. Senator Goebel and Mr. Ernst, of Covington, and Hon. John B. Clark, of Brooksville, are his attorneys.

THE Merrill farm on Jersey Ridge, containing about seventy-two acres, was sold a few days ago at public auction to Messrs. Dan and Charles Conlon, of Charleston Bottom, at $52 an acre.

THE best is always the cheapest and that's why it pays to deal with Ballenger, the jeweler. Remember, he has an elegant stock of solid silverware and a choice line of novelties on sale at all times.

THE loss of Mr. Joseph R. Davis, of the Mt. Gilead neighborhood, by the burning of his residence last week, is placed at $1,000. He carried $700 insurance in the Farmers' Home Mutual Aid Association of this county.

I WILL continue the reduced prices on ladies' and gent's gold watches until January 1st. I will guarantee these prices fully 20 per cent. less than elsewhere. P. J. MURPHY, Successor to Hopper & Murphy.

MISS SELMA GROOMS, a lovely young lady of West Union, O., was shot and fatally wounded by her brother last Monday. He didn't know the weapon was loaded. When will the fools quit snapping pistols at some dear friend or relative "just for fun?"

ROSCOE PARKER, colored, who was jailed at West Union last week for the murder of L. P. Ryan and wife, has confessed, but refuses to tell who aided him in committing the horrible crime. Excitement runs high, and threats of lynching Parker are made by Ryan's neighbors.

BRACKEN COUNTY comes to the front with a "kleptomaniac" in the person of a lady living near Augusta. During the rush of the Christmas trade last Saturday she "appropriated" several articles at Knoedler's store and a pair of shoes at J. T. Jackson's. She was finally detected, however, and the goods were recovered.

THERE will be a lecture at the Christian Church in Washington Wednesday night, December 27th, for the benefit of the church. Subject, "Wonder Land." The lecture will be illustrated by stereoscopic views. The speaker has visited New Zealand, and is prepared to make his lecture very instructive and interesting. Admission, for adults, 25 cents; children under twelve, 15 cents.

A MERRY TIME.

The Young Peoples' Missionary Society of the Washington Presbyterian Church were entertained Monday night at the home of the good pastor, Rev. W. T. Spears, and his most estimable wife. About thirty-five young ladies and gentlemen were present, and that they had a happy time goes without saying to all who know the genial host and charming hostess.

The Washington Presbyterian Church is a power for good in the community—such as has not existed for years. The historic old town would be morally lost, almost, without its influence.

Mr. Spears, the faithful pastor, is ably seconded by his good wife. He is truly a good shepherd—the father of his flock. He devotes much of his time to the care of the young, knowing that in the boys and girls rests the future hope of the church and the country. He has the regard of the entire community. God bless him in his good work, and hold up his hands till the going down of mortal life's sun and then grant him an abundant entrance into life eternal, is the prayer of all his friends.

DDD AND INTERESTING SIGHTS SEEN
BY A TRAVELER.

Handsome Women and Well Behaved Children—Woman Is Happy In Her Position of Subjection—The Geisha Girls and Their Beautiful Dancing.

The Japanese pedestrians who are not barefoot wear wooden clogs, or pattens, or straw sandals. In either case they are kept on by a cord which passes between the great toe and the others, the stockings being made to accommodate, like a mitten, the great toe in place of the thumb. The pattens are raised two or three inches from the ground by cross pieces under them four inches apart, and they make a great clattering, especially in crossing a bridge or wooden platform. The majority of the Japanese men of the common sort are bareheaded in the street. The women never have any other covering on the head than their elaborately dressed hair, always very black, very smooth and very abundant. Frequently, though, in these days, the Japanese man who still wears the native costume surmounts it with a derby hat, which produces a peculiar effect.

One of the first things which strike a stranger is the manner in which the babies are carried. We see men, women and children with babies on their backs. It is not uncommon to see a girl of 6 or 8 years with a baby brother or sister strapped on her shoulders. Thus incumbered the children walk about, play at games, stop to look at puppet shows, and do what they please, without appearing to feel the burden. The babies are apt to be asleep, and their heads swing about until you wonder that their necks are not broken. The children all seem to be merry and amiable. Very seldom is one seen either cross or noisy. I wish the good missionaries who are beginning to swarm in the country would send home the secret of the excellent behavior of the children.

As a rule, the young and middle aged women are quite good looking, subject to the peculiarities of their type. They have smooth, round faces, often with fresh color, liquid black eyes, exquisite hands and well rounded arms. Their feet are not so attractive, being spread out by the use of clogs or pattens. This footgear tends to give them ungainly gait—a sort of waddle—and it is considered the correct thing to toe in. Their costume, almost always becoming as to materials and color, makes them look a little dumpy. This is especially the effect of the great bow of the belt or obi worn on the small of the back as much as a foot square. In most cases the faces wear amiable, contented expressions.

The women of Japan are much better treated than their sisters in other eastern nations, but they are considered distinctly inferior to the men and are taught from their earliest childhood obedience—first, to their parents; then to their husbands, and finally to their sons when they become the heads of their households. But this does not appear to weigh upon the Japanese woman. She is cheerful, docile and contented with her lot, happy to serve in the station appointed her, with simple tastes and good digestion, and politeness which never fails. They are said to be good housekeepers, always observant of their duties, but the simplicity of their housekeeping relieves them of a great measure of the care which wrinkles the brow of the New England housekeeper.

Their houses, even the best of them, are the simplest structures imaginable, containing almost nothing of what we call furniture, and their dresses require no art in their cutting and manufacture. Thus the two great causes of worryment from which our women suffer do not exist for these simple creatures.

We had heard so much about the geisha girls that we were curious to extend our ethnological investigations in this direction. Soon after our arrival in Yokohama arrangements were made by an experienced friend for a function at one of the best tea houses in the city. We started at 8 p. m., five of us, each in a jinrikisha, for a ride to the place appointed, about a mile from our hotel. We went off at a brisk trot, each human nag carrying a paper lantern. Through the crowded streets, around the corners, with sharp warnings, we fared, and in 10 minutes brought up at our rendezvous. We were received with low salaams, and after exchanging our boots for soft oversocks, were conducted to a spacious room, inclosed by paper paneled partitions. Here we sat down on silk cushions about 15 inches square. At the side of each was placed a bibachi, a small box containing a live coal imbedded in ashes to furnish a light for pipe or cigar.

A buxom attendant approached with tea things, made a low prostration, while her face touched the floor, and most gracefully served tea for us. She also brought us fruit and cakes, every step of the process punctuated by a low bow. To this preparation succeeded six girls, quite pretty, neatly dressed in soft crape costumes, with smiling faces. Two were to play the samisen, a sort of guitar, and the others were the dancers. All squatted and prostrated themselves before us. Then the music struck up, the players accompanying their instruments with a peculiar vocal effort which bore the burden of the story to be illustrated in the dance.

The dancers sprang to their places and the fun began. Each dancer carried a fan, the managing of which was an important part of the business. The movements were graceful after their kind and perfectly innocent and decorous. It was entirely different from those voluptuous eastern dances which caused so much disturbance to the sensitive moral sense of Chicago. The dance closed with a general prostration. Then the dancers came forward and squatted in front of us and about six feet away, with faces as demure as those of young kittens. There were five or six different dances—we were fully satisfied as to quantity—and then the function came to an end with sweet smiles and "sayonaras" (good-bys) as we departed.—Boston Herald.

THE BODY AND THE MIND.

Why the Former Should Be Cultivated For the Sake of the Latter.

The important subject of physical culture is not considered as it ought to be by the majority of men and women, and there is almost absolute ignorance of the makeup of the body on the part of even intelligent people, with little desire for such knowledge, although health, beauty and success depend largely on the treatment given to the body. Mental acquirements are blindly worshiped, while the essential question of health receives little thought, and hence it is almost impossible to find men in the ordinary walks of active life, at middle age, who do not complain of impaired health and want of vital force.

Without a sound body one cannot have a sound mind, and unless proper attention is given to the culture of the body good health cannot be expected. Plato is said to have called a certain man lame because he exercised the mind while the body was allowed to suffer. This is done to an alarming extent nowadays. Brain workers, as a rule, exercise no part of the body except the head, and consequently suffer from indigestion, palpitation of the heart, insomnia and other ills, which if neglected generally prove fatal. Brilliant and successful men are constantly obliged to give up work through the growing malady of nervous prostration. The number of those who succumb to it has increased to an alarming extent of late years and that of suicides hardly less. Few will question that this is owing to overworking the brain and the neglect of body culture.

Vitality becomes impaired and strength consumed by mental demands, which are nowadays raised to a perilous height, and it is only by careful attention to physical development and by judicious bodily exercise that the brainworker can counteract the mental strain. Women rarely consider the importance of physical culture, yet they need physical training almost more than men do. Thousands of our young women are unfit to become wives or mothers, who might be strong and beautiful if they gave a short time daily to physical development.—Lippincott's Magazine.

How Jack Gets Whisky.

One of the most arduous tasks devolving upon the officers of a warship is that of preventing the men from smuggling intoxicants aboard the ship.

A company of half a dozen men on one of the warships here during the naval review had a young parrot for a pet housed in a gorgeous big cage. The bird was the successor of several that had occupied the same cage during a stay at a tropical port. The owners seemed to be unfortunate with their pets, which lived only a short time. The one they brought here, which had stood the voyage well, died soon after the ship arrived in port. The men took the cage ashore and got some other kind of bird. That also soon died, and so did four or five others in succession within a few weeks.

Finally the officers noticed the great mortality of pet birds, as they had also noticed the great frequency with which the joint owners of these pets got mysteriously drunk aboard ship. A suspicion dawned upon them, and they seized the birdcage. They found it had a false bottom, with a capacity for several quarts of whisky, and also that the food tins and even the thick bars were hollow. The men had killed their cheap pet when other schemes for obtaining liquor were not available, and taking the cage ashore for another came back with a new bird and half a gallon or so of whisky.—New York Sun.

A MARBLE CASCADE.

A Feature of the Midwinter Fair Will Be a Permanent Park Attraction.

The greatest of the permanent attractions of Golden Gate park will soon be ready for the public. This is no less than the marble cascade on the eastern slope of Strawberry hill. The finishing touches are now being put on that work of art, and when the pumping machinery is ready to furnish the water for it the cascade will begin to pour its waters down the sheer side of the hill to form one of the most magnificent artificial waterfalls in the world.

The falls will have two descents of 50 feet each. The first fall will empty its foamy waters into a basin half way up the hillside, and the waters will take another plunge and fall into a similar basin at the base of the cliff. From the latter pool they will flow under a footwalk into the lake. When it is stated that Vernal falls, in Yosemite valley, are only 350 feet, or a little over twice the height of the marble cascades, and proportionately contain no larger volume of water at their normal state than it will, the force in comparison will be understood. The cascades will lack something in the grandeur of surroundings that other falls possess, but this will be compensated for in some landscape creations on their borders that will, when their verdure shall have had time for development, make of them a south Pacific island dream.—San Francisco Report.

Killed With a Slingshot.

WEST LIBERTY, O., Dec. 27.—A. S. Platt, nephew of Colonel Doan Platt, hit a colored man named Grant Jackson with a slingshot and killed him. Platt was arrested for manslaughter.

SENSATIONAL ARRESTS.

Prominent Citizens Charged With Being Implicated in a Robbery.

SAHARON, Pa., Dec. 27.—Richard Pew, Albert Clark and David Williams, three prominent citizens, were arrested last night charged with being implicated in the robbery of the residence of Mrs. Sarah Williams, near Bloomfield, several weeks ago, and also with being connected with the bold Reeder robbery of a few days ago. After the arrest a lot of goods were discovered secreted under the floor in one of the rooms in Pew's residence. Some of the most valuable articles discovered were identified by Mrs. Williams as her property.

The arrests created a sensation on account of the standing of the men. All the accused have families and for years have given the closest attention to their business in connection with the iron mill interests of this vicinity. They claim that they will be able to clear themselves at the proper time. Pew says he will show that the goods found in his house came to him in a legitimate way.

FIGHT WITH A BURGLAR.

Two Women Badly Beaten and a Lynching May Follow.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 27.—A masked burglar entered the house of Mrs. Ellen Kelley, five miles southwest of Argentine. She and her daughter Eliza live alone and there was considerable money in the house. The women awakened to find the burglar in their presence. Mrs. Kelley got hold of a long, sharp corn-knife and a three-cornered struggle followed.

The robber received a wound in the head, inflicted with the knife, and the robber beat both the women badly about the head and face with his fist, while the daughter received two severe wounds in the head, inflicted by the robber with the corn-knife. Finally the daughter succeeded in giving the alarm and neighbors came to their assistance. A large posse are in pursuit of the robber, and lynching is not improbable. Mrs. Kelley is 70 years old.

CASH RUNNING LOW.

January 1 Will Find Uncle Sam Many Millions Short.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—The prospects are that during the present week the available cash balance of the treasury will reach a figure lower than has ever been recorded in its history. At the close of business Saturday the balance as stated on the books of the treasury was $90,487,268, and it is generally expected that it will fall below $90,000,000 during this week. The total balance on the 1st inst. was $95,199,616, showing a reduction during the month of $4,712,348. The loss, however, has fallen more heavily upon the currency balance than upon the gold reserve. The marked excess of expenditures over receipts, it is now believed, will show a deficiency in the revenue at the close of the calendar year of, approximately, $37,000,000.

KILLED BY HIS FRIEND

While Playfully Wrestling For Possession of a Gun.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Dec. 27.—Another fatal accident from the careless handling of firearms occurred yesterday at Ladoga, in Montgomery county. John Grady and Ed Smith, two well known young men of that place, went hunting, and late in the afternoon Grady appeared at a farmhouse with the intelligence of the death of his companion.

Grady states that, tired of walking, they seated themselves on a fence to rest. He playfully pushed Smith off, and the latter, being slightly nettled, seized hold of the muzzle of the gun Grady held and gave it a sudden jerk. In some way the weapon was discharged and Smith's head was literally blown out. The sad affair caused considerable excitement in the section where it occurred.

The White Fish Bay association, a syndicate of suburban lot boomers, assigned to Dr. Charles Stanhope. The company's assets are $75,000.
